

Title: SYSTEMS AND METHODS TO FACILITATE A TRANSFER OF A REFUND AMOUNT FROM AN EDUCATIONAL
INSTITUTION TO A STUDENT

ABSTRACT

According to some embodiments, systems and methods are provided to facilitate a transfer of a refund amount from an educational institution to a student. For example, a refund controller may receive from an educational institution an indication of a refund amount associated with a student of the educational institution student. The refund controller may then determine a method of refund delivery associated with the student and automatically arrange for the refund amount to be provided to the student in accordance with the determined method of delivery.
